TESTBED-NODES

Nodes are the placeholders for the device inside testbed.

Each node will be assigned to a device profile and it can hold only devices of that profile.

These devices can be changed any time using configure option in tested, But profile once assigned cannot be changed at any time.

Adding a node just requires node name and device profile.

Nodes can be reused in many testbeds