TESTSUITE

Why we need Test Suite?

- Test suite, less commonly known as a 'validation suite', is a collection of test groups/ Test cases.
- Group of Testcases which perform similar testing functionalities will be under a single test suite
- It is a logical group of testcases intended to make execution easier.
- Each test suite will be a part of module and can have one or many test groups within it.

- In this we use ADD TESTSUITE button to create new testsuite, enter the name of testsuite and select the module type.

- After creating new Testsuite map the testcases or test group based on the requirement.

- Testgroup is set of testcases for testing. Testsuite can have testcases collected from different testgroup.
